

02 November 2009

Certificates Available

The Deutsche Bahn AG, the biggest German railway company, certifies the approval of Kjellberg Finsterwalde's rod electrodes. All products submitted for the suitability test have been approved for welding and surfacing according to the quality standards of the group. All certificates are now available from our protected download area.

- DB Certificates